

RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters.

The cotton and tobacco markets were both very lively yesterday.

New styles of hats and dresses threaten to descend upon the city during the next two weeks.

The street railway company will run ten minute schedules to and from Brookside park next Thursday.

It is the intention of the CHRONICLE to tell its readers something about the other schools of the city next week.

Railroad talk continues to hold its own among business men whenever there is a let up in the press of business.

Arrangements were made yesterday for the appearance of the famous Boston Symphony Orchestra here on December 12th.

A regular meeting of Wm. G. Hill Lodge of Masons will be held on tomorrow, (Monday) commencing at 8 o'clock. Visiting brethren invited.

The apple crop is far from being a failure in the matter of quantity. An immense lot of this fruit is on the market every day.

There is some talk of having a grand premium tobacco sale here. Those which have been held heretofore proved very successful indeed.

Pastor Cordon is absent, and in lieu of preaching in Edenton street M. E. church to-day, Prof. James Dinwiddie will deliver a lecture there.

The barbecue and speaking of next Thursday will draw one of the largest crowds ever seen in Raleigh and Thursday will be one of the biggest days.

When the new coal chute which is being constructed by the R. & G. road, near the union depot is completed, that section will be something of a Newcastle.

Raleigh has more fine bird dogs than any place of the same dimensions in this country, and the birds may look for troublous havoc when the season opens.

The CHRONICLE agrees with its correspondent of yesterday that no charge should be made to the grand stand during fair week, and this matter should be settled at once.

The next number of the North Carolina Teacher will have a new and beautiful and very suggestive and appropriate cover. The cover was designed by Mr. Hunter L. Harris, of this city.

It has not been determined exactly what must be done with the sidewalks, but it is absolutely certain that the matter will not be let alone until something is done. Just put that down, somebody.

The tax list for Raleigh Township for 1890, shows the property listed is valued at $5,395,483. Out of this amount, the colored people have listed $194,580. Number of white polls, 1012; colored 801.

It will not be another week before the great need of additional hotel facilities in Raleigh will be forcibly demonstrated. The need of another hall or auditorium will also be very practically demonstrated.

One pretty suggestion which the CHRONICLE heard yesterday, was that a fountain ought to ornament Nash square. That is a beautiful place now, but a fountain would make it fresher and cooler looking. How about that Alderman Horton, of the park committee?

There will be a great time at Myatt's Mills next Tuesday, the 23rd. The pond which has not been fished in many years will be drawn off, and there will be a great fish fry. Everybody is invited to go. The mills are fifteen miles from the city on the Fayetteville road.

It is Mr. Jno. R. Redford who has become baggage master on the Seaboard Air-Line. Mr. Robert Redford can still be found at the well known house of W. C. & A. B. Stronach, where he can supply his friends with any thing they wish in the heavy or fancy grocery line at low prices.

A business man suggested yesterday that the owners of all the two story business houses on Fayetteville street would find it to their advantage to put another story on them. He claimed that it would beautify and make the buildings more imposing, greatly improve the street, make the buildings more desirable and cause a steady and acceptable increase of rent. This matter may be worth looking into.

The Y. M. D. C. has nearly three hundred members and still they come. Some folks who heretofore voted in a "scattering" way have come right up and said they will vote the straight Democratic ticket this time, and some have signed the roll who have heretofore been straight-out Republicans. The tide is turning in Wake, and if the white men will work, Democracy will win in Wake sure. White men and Democrats; will you work this time?

A prominent citizen of Western North Carolina, in a private letter to the editor of the CHRONICLE says: "It is to be hoped the good people of Wake will rally to the Democratic ticket and put the seal of condemnation on such proceedings as characterized the negro meeting held there a few days since." Fellow Democrats of Wake: The eyes of the State are upon us. We can defeat every Radical candidate if we will work. If we don't defeat them, it will be because we are not faithful. Let us all go to work.

At Williams & Co's book-store is shown the handsome copy of Webster's Dictionary which will be awarded to the best seller at the State fair contest. It is the International edition, which contains everything that the unabridged edition and the supplement have heretofore contained. It is to take the place of the "unabridged" which latter is to be withdrawn from the market. Ten years have been spent in carefully revising the "International" and the work cost $300,000. It is a superb volume in every particular.

The Examination for West Point.

The competitive examination for appointment to West Point from this Congressional district will be held in the Senate chamber on Friday morning, September 26th, at nine o'clock. It seems that some confusion has arisen as to the time, but the date mentioned here is the time, and all intending to send the examination should guide themselves with reference to this date.

COMING AND GOING.

Some of The Folks You Know and Their Doings.

Mr. C. A. Pool, of Clayton, is in the city.

Mrs. Arthur Winslow went North yesterday morning.

Mrs. R. T. Gay returned yesterday from a visit to Fayetteville.

Mrs. Julius Lewis is on a visit to Mrs. Leo D. Heatt in Durham.

Miss Sallie Clark left yesterday on a visit to friends at various points.

Mr. Haywood Parker, of the faculty of Bingham School, is in the city.

Mrs. Allen and little daughter, Maggie, of Wake Forest, spent yesterday in the city.

Miss Helen Fowle returned from an extended visit to the Western part of the State yesterday.

Gov. Fowle will deliver the address of welcome to the State Association of Democratic clubs here on next Wednesday.

Prof. F. M. Harper is again at his post in the Centennial Graded School, and his many friends are gratified at his return there, which was at one time doubtful.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Annie Hunt Green, daughter of Captain and Mrs. T. J. Green, to Mr. William N. Williams, in Hay Street M. E. church, in Fayetteville, on October 1st.

Mr. C. H. H. Turner, one of the cleverest drummers on the road, was in Raleigh yesterday. We didn't buy any paper from him because the CHRONICLE uses none but home made paper, manufactured at the Askew Mills in Wake county.

Hon. E. T. Boykin, who will preside at the term of Wake Superior Court commencing to-morrow, arrived yesterday, and is at the Yarrowborough. He has been in Raleigh so often in the Legislature, that we feel here that he is one of us.

Col. P. F. Faison, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Penitentiary, has returned from the State Farm in Halifax county. We learn from him that the crop is in excellent condition and the yield will be large. On this farm 190 convicts are employed—women, boys and men—whose physical strength is unequal to railroad work. This year the managers have made remarkable success and have demonstrated that farming is a good and a profitable way in which convicts may be employed. It may be that we can settle the question of how to employ convicts by putting them to farming.

A patent medicine man came here yesterday and set the boys wild and like to have run the town crazy. He began to give away duplex wooden whistles to the boys, and in about two hours he had evidently given away about ten thousand. Every boy, archer, gamin, street arab and little nigger got one or more whistles, and oh! shades of "Pharaoh's locusts," what a terrific buzzing and whistling and screeching there was for the remainder of the day. One man swore that Pharaoh's locust plague was a pleasant little serenade compared to the terrific and ear-splitting whistle plague. That medicine man has an eye to business. If his medicine is to cure insanity or nervous disorganization, he will do a smashing business here. He will have plenty of patients. Those whistles will fix 'em. He reminds the philosopher of a woman. Her mission is to soothe the trouble; and she will fulfill that mission even if she has to make the trouble to get in her good work upon. He comes and finds a community well and happy; but he upsets the whole business so he can tell 'em his medicine will cure 'em.

Some Whistling.

The Governor yesterday pardoned James L. Henry, of Cherokee county, out of imprisonment. The pardon was granted upon the certificate of the county physician that if compelled to serve out his sentence, his life would be endangered; also upon recommendation of the Attorney General and various citizens of Cherokee county. The crime was assault and battery with deadly weapon.

Pardoned.

The Governor yesterday pardoned James L. Henry, of Cherokee county, out of imprisonment. The pardon was granted upon the certificate of the county physician that if compelled to serve out his sentence, his life would be endangered; also upon recommendation of the Attorney General and various citizens of Cherokee county. The crime was assault and battery with deadly weapon.

STATE FAIR NOTES.

The Church Cart Manufacturing Co., of S. Paul, Minn., offers as a special premium—"for the greatest exhibit of production of any farm of North Carolina" one of their best carts, value fifty-five dollars. This company will have a large exhibit at the State Fair, and Mr. W. R. Church will represent the factory.

Beautiful and Handsome Suits.

It's no use talking. The man who wears elegant and good fitting clothes is the man who finds the smoothest sailing in this world. Even the man who "talks" against "clothes making the man" has great admiration for the man who takes care of his personal appearance and looks neat and gentlemanly. Now, it's just as easy and quite as cheap to wear "a nice fitting and elegant looking suit, and as it is to wear a baggy, "ramshackly" looking attire.

G. N. Walters, the tailor, is the man who makes many of the handsome and elegant suits that are so much admired everywhere. Walters is one of the most popular tailors in Raleigh. He has his own method of cutting, and he selects all the material, foreign and domestic, which he offers for sale. He recognizes that tailoring is a science, and he studies his trade as such. He cuts and makes up on scientific methods, and this is the whole secret of his great success in furnishing the comfortable feeling and elegant looking suits which his customers speak of with so much satisfaction.

The Jefferson Club.

There will be a called meeting of the Jefferson Club at Democratic Headquarters on Monday (to-morrow) morning at 11 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the convention of Democratic Clubs.

Selling Shoulder Capes.

We must crowd big sales into a few days, or the fast arriving heavy winter wraps will jam space to our sorrow. MCKIMMON, MOSELEY AND MCGEE.

Swift Creek Democratic Club.

A Democratic club was organized for Swift Creek township yesterday at Franklin's. Col. L. D. Stephenson was elected president; F. L. Stephenson, secretary; T. J. Harrison, W. H. J. Goodwin, Edward Rea, Thos. Burns, Jr., vice-presidents; F. R. Gray, corresponding secretary and treasurer.

The following delegates were elected to the convention of Democratic clubs: R. E. L. Yates, W. H. Uley, F. R. Gray, A. F. Taylor, T. J. Harrison, J. T. Cone, U. B. Jones and Ed. Rea. A. D. Jones, John W. Thompson and E. McK. Goodwin were present, and made speeches. A lively interest was manifested by those present and a determination expressed to organize the township thoroughly.

Weather Report.

Raleigh yesterday: Maximum temperature 84; minimum temperature 63; rainfall, 0.00.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity to-day: Fair weather; cooler; north-easterly winds.

For Monday: Fair weather; stationary temperature.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Forecast for North Carolina: Fair, except light local rains near the coast; cooler; northerly winds.

For Virginia: Fair; cooler; followed by rising temperature in western portion of Virginia; winds becoming variable; warmer Monday.

A Little Fire.

Last night about nine o'clock an alarm was turned in from box 31. The fire department found a small fire at the residence of T. F. Brockwell, on South McDowell street. Some clothing hanging on a wooden partition took fire and burned, and the partition was charred up.

The damage was about ten dollars. The house and contents were insured for $400.

Wanted!

To rent a good piano. Parties having pianos to rent will please address, with terms, care STATE CHRONICLE, sept 19-41.

Fall 1890.

Those who wish to procure advance styles in dry goods for the fall season should buy early.

Many of the leading lines of silks, dress goods, laces and trimmings are now arriving, and cannot be duplicated when once sold. We have endeavored to provide the most correct and desirable goods this fall, and we trust the above advice will be appreciated by our customers.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & CO.

Ferris!

You have seen the name before; but you never saw a better ham than Ferris puts up. We offer Ferris hams, smoked beef and tongues. Receive them frequently in small lots, fresh from the smoke-house, so that they are not dried up to nothing before you get them. Also Harvey's best breakfast strips, California hams, and a full stock of meats generally.

EBERHARDT & PESCU

Elegant Country Residence For Sale.

The coast of North Carolina is confessedly one of the most salubrious spots of earth. The climate is glorious, both winter and summer, and the section is one which is largely resorted to by invalids. On the Southern part of the coast of N. C., eight miles from Wilmington, is a beautiful spot which will be offered for sale on Thursday, October 2, 1890. It is the elegant residence of Lt. Gov. Chas. M. Steadman. It is on Wrightsville sound which is a noted summer resort, and to which thousands of people go every summer. The section in which this residence is located is famous for many attractions—such as grassy lawns, lovely and umbrageous trees and splendid vineyards. In fact the luscious grape grows to its greatest perfection in Eastern Carolina. Be sure to notice the page "ad" in to-day's paper about this property. A free excursion will be given, and an unusual opportunity offered for the purchase of a delightful summer home.

Darkest Nights Have a Morning, and Longest Lanes Have an Ending.

After the long dull days of summer have passed, the fall business has opened with a glorious flood tide of trade never before preceded in the history of our affairs in Raleigh. Are we pleased to you ask? Well rather! We are hilarious over the turn things have taken. Our business doubled last year, and we sell strictly for cash, hence we loose nothing, and we are so well pleased that we have no bad dreams; but when we lay down at night we sleep all right and eat three hearty meals a day and don't worry. All this satisfaction is brought about by the knowledge of knowing that we are doing the world good, and especially the people who deal with us. The buyer at Swindell's will be obliged to go North the first of October for the second time this fall to buy an entire new stock of carpets, dress goods and clothing.

SWINDELL.

In order to test the comparative merits of the various newspaper advertising mediums, and at the same time benefit the readers thereof, we shall consider this advertisement for one dollar in payment toward purchase of $20 or more worth of goods, if cut out and presented at time of purchase, either in person or by mail.

SWINDELL.

THE WORLD'S COMMERCE.

New York, September 20.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Company, in their cotton circular to-night say: An advance of 3 64 in the future market in Liverpool this morning was rather a surprise to the trade here. A better market was expected, but not such a pronounced change of sentiment as the advance would indicate. On this side of the water it is evident that the feeling is still against, for, notwithstanding the strong foreign advices and a day of comparatively light receipts, the opening here was feeble at an advance, and the close is easy at within one point of last night's closing.

Receipts at the ports estimated at 29,000 bales, against 25,597 bales last week, and 23,476 bales last year.

Spot cotton market is dull at 1-16 decline in quotations; middling uplands 10 7-16; sales 61 bales.
